General marking principles for National 5 English: Critical Reading

This information is provided to help you understand the general principles you must apply when marking candidate responses to questions in this paper. These principles must be read in conjunction with the specific marking instructions for each question. The marking schemes are written to assist in determining the “minimal acceptable answer” rather than listing every possible correct and incorrect answer.

- (a) Marks for each candidate response must always be assigned in line with these general marking principles and the detailed marking instructions for the relevant question.
- (b) Marking should always be positive. This means that, for each candidate response marks are accumulated for the demonstration of relevant skills, knowledge and understanding: they are not deducted from a maximum on the basis of errors or omissions.
- (c) If a specific candidate response does not seem to be covered by either the principles or detailed marking instructions, and you are uncertain how to assess it, you must seek guidance from your team leader.

The marking instructions indicate the essential idea that a candidate should provide for each answer.

Question			Expected response(s)	Max mark	Additional guidance
8.			Extract Answers from the extract are likely to focus on Alec and Davie's current situation of having no money which has resulted in there being no food in the house to eat ('Not a thing'/'Is there no even any bread'), and the electricity being cut off. Davie has borrowed Alec's school bursary money and was supposed to pay the bills and buy other items eg the shirt but he has not. Davie is not managing their money effectively, spending what they do have on gambling and alcohol ('Just a coupla quid'), which adds to the cycle of poverty. Elsewhere Due to Davie's declining employment situation, he is struggling with money ('So that's me. Scrubbed. Again. Laid off. Redundant. Services no longer required. Just like that.') This is exacerbated by his gambling and alcohol. He has debts to bookies which accumulate to the point of never being able to pay them off. ('Now when ah pay him ah'm just clearin the interest.') He also has to borrow money from his brother, Billy. He is also employed as a 'tick man' where he chases up debts, which reveals that many people within their community also rely on borrowing as a means to get what they need ('Your da sells stuff on the never never and collects the money roon the doors.')	8	Candidates may choose to answer in bullet points in this final question, or write a number of linked statements. There is no requirement to write a 'mini essay'. Up to 2 marks can be achieved for identifying elements of commonality as identified in the question. A further 2 marks can be achieved for reference to the extract given. 4 additional marks can be awarded for similar references to at least one other text/part of the text by the writer. In practice this means: Identification of commonality (2) (eg: theme, central relationship, importance of setting, use of imagery, development in characterisation, use of personal experience, use of narrative style, or any other key element...) from the extract: 1 x relevant reference to technique (1) 1 x appropriate comment (1) OR 1 x relevant reference to idea (1) 1 x appropriate comment (1) OR 1 x relevant reference to feature (1) 1 x appropriate comment (1) OR 1 x relevant reference to text (1) 1 x appropriate comment (1)

Question			Expected response(s)	Max mark	Additional guidance
			The setting of the play – makes reference to the ‘grey tenements’, ‘midden’, ‘ashes’ which suggests the area is dirty and run down. Davie also refers to selling things eg records to get money. The food they eat is not very nutritious. At the end of the play Davie and Alec are burning their items (books, furniture, sailmaking tools) on the fire to keep warm (‘When the last bit of furniture had burned down, I wedged the yacht in the grate.’) The playwright shows different routes out of poverty eg education, emigration, religion, sports (football/boxing), the army.		(maximum of 2 marks only for discussion of extract) from at least one other text/part of the text: as above (x2) for up to 4 marks

Question		Expected response(s)	Max mark	Additional guidance
13.		Extract Franco has joined the war as a British soldier, even though he is of Italian heritage (although born in Scotland). Rosinella refers to ‘where he really belongs’ meaning Italy/ with his Italian family. Rosinella demonstrates her nationalist views eg stereotypical and derisory comments about Bridget/ all Scottish girls (‘played around a wee bit’/ ‘if Italian girls were allowed out...’/ ‘you girls bring it on yourself’). She strongly believes the people should only marry within their own communities. Elsewhere The title of the play relates to both sides of nationalism eg unpleasant nicknames and stereotypes, but also their family ties and traditions. Rosinella is the character who most expresses her view that Italians are better than other groups or nationalities (‘We’re Italian, we just live here. It’s not our country.’). This often leads to her demonstrating prejudice towards others, and she openly comments in negative terms about Scots and their values/how they bring up their families (‘OK, so the Scotch people let their lassies go anywhere, do anything they like because they don’t care as much.’) However, these prejudiced views are often exposed as being ridiculous or false eg when Luigi is shown to be lazy or Hughie is shown to be hard working. After the war she holds a grudge about the way Italians were treated.	8	Candidates may choose to answer in bullet points in this final question or write a number of linked statements. There is no requirement to write a ‘mini essay’. Up to 2 marks can be achieved for identifying elements of commonality as requested in the question. A further 2 marks can be achieved for reference to the extract given. 4 additional marks can be awarded for similar references to at least one other text/part of the text by the writer. In practice this means: Identification of commonality (2) (eg: theme, central relationship, importance of setting, use of imagery, development in characterisation, use of personal experience, use of narrative style or any other key element...) from the extract: 1 x relevant reference to technique (1) 1 x appropriate comment (1) OR 1 x relevant reference to idea (1) 1 x appropriate comment (1) OR 1 x relevant reference to feature (1) 1 x appropriate comment (1) OR 1 x relevant reference to text (1) 1 x appropriate comment (1) (maximum of 2 marks only for discussion of extract) from at least one other text/ part of the text. as above (x2) for up to 4 marks

Question			Expected response(s)	Max mark	Additional guidance
			Lucia also identifies more with her Italian heritage, speaking Italian at school and experiencing prejudice for this. However, she later starts to have mixed feelings about this as she falls in love with Hughie who is Scottish. Other characters in the play find it easier to have a dual nationality eg Massimo, Franco. They both embrace their Italian heritage but also see themselves as being Scottish/British (Franco: 'I was born here. That makes me British.'). The war demonstrates the extremes of nationalism/nationalist views. When Italy enters the war it becomes more complicated for the family. Despite their popularity the Pedreschi's shop is attacked due to their nationality. Massimo and his father are arrested and interned for being Italians living in Scotland. When Massimo returns he relays the horrors of war. Franco and his father both die as a consequence of the war, and Italy is shown to be destroyed ('Luigi: What's left of Cassino? You tell me that. Every single street - Makes exploding noise.')

18.			Possible areas for comment include: Extract: The forest is described in both positive ('delightful spot for a picnic') and negative ways (many examples). This can relate to the idea of good vs evil, as well as the theme of nature. The CG hut and the beach hut are important locations, and relate to the idea of social class, as well as religious themes. The beach hut represented 'dryness', 'warmth' and 'humanity'. Collecting the cones is part of the war effort during the Second World War. Elsewhere: Throughout the novel there are descriptions of the forest/wood/estate which are at times magical and suggesting of Garden of Eden/paradise. There are also negative aspects which come in eg, warships which relates to the idea of good and evil. The different houses of the estate - hut, Duror's house, the beach hut, the mansion house - and how they relate to the theme of social class/equality. The setting in time of the Second World War is central to the novel. There are characters who have died or are at war or who have been unable to fight as well as conscientious objectors. The theme of good and evil is demonstrated through this with Duror being associated with Hitler/evil.	8	Candidates may choose to answer in bullet points in this final question or write a number of linked statements. Critical Essay

If minimum standards have been achieved, then the supplementary marking grid will allow you to place the work on a scale of marks out of 20.

Once an essay has been judged to have met minimum standards, it does not have to meet all the suggestions for it to fall into a band of marks. More typically, there will be a spectrum of strengths and weaknesses which span bands.

Marking Principles for the Critical Essay are as follows:

- The essay should first be read to establish whether it achieves relevance and the standards for technical accuracy outlined in the supplementary marking grid.
- If minimum standards are not achieved, the maximum mark which can be awarded is 9.
- If minimum standards have been achieved, then the supplementary marking grid will allow you to place the work on a scale of marks out of 20.

Note: Using the supplementary marking grid:

Bands are not grades. The five bands are designed primarily to assist with placing each candidate response at an appropriate point on a continuum of achievement. Assumptions about final grades or association of final grades with particular bands should not be allowed to influence objective assessment.
